

BOWDOIN COLLEGE

UPWARD BOUND

September 25, 2006

To Whom It May Concern:

Please accept this letter as acknowledgment that Grayson Lewis (Cub) worked with the Upward Bound program at Bowdoin College during the summer of 1982 and 1983. Mr. Lewis served in the capacity of Martial Arts Instructor for Upward Bound students providing valuable instruction that included Shotokan Karate. Drug and alcohol prevention and nonviolence are messages that were reinforced by the course.

Upward Bound is a federally funded program designed to provide low-income, first generation high school students with the support and preparation for success in higher education. During the summer, participants in the Bowdoin program live on campus for six weeks while enrolled in a series of rigorous academic courses, and throughout the school year, they participate in academic enrichment activities.
